

Biography of Major Kimberly S. Gordon

H2F Performance Dietitian, 82nd Airborne Division Sustainment Brigade, Fort Bragg, NC

Major Kimberly Gordon was born in Atlanta, GA. She graduated with a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Family and Consumer Science and Dietetics from the University of Georgia and completed her Masters of Science in Nutrition and Dietetics at Appalachian State University. She entered the Army as a Commissioned Officer in August of 2012.

Major Gordon's assignments and duty positions include Inpatient Clinical Dietitian, Bariatric Dietitian and the Chief, Food Service Operations Womack Army Medical Center, Fort Bragg, NC; Alpha Company Commander, Troop Battalion, Womack Army Medical Center, Fort Bragg, NC; Deputy Director Human Performance and Performance Dietitian, XVIII Airborne Corps, Fort Bragg, NC; H2F Performance Dietitian, 82nd Airborne Division Sustainment Brigade Ft. Bragg. NC.

Major Gordon's military education and training include AMEDD Officer Basic Course, the Joint Field Nutrition Operations Course, Captain's Career Course, Basic Hospital Administration Course and the Joint Advanced Nutrition and Dietetic Course, Mary Lipscomb Hamrick Research Course, AMEDD Junior Leadership Course and the Master Fitness Trainer Course. She is also a Sports Dietetics Board Certified Specialist in and is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Coach credentialed by the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Major Gordon's awards and decorations include the Meritorious Service Medal with 1 Oak Leaf Cluster, the Army Commendation Medal, the Army Achievement Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, the Army Service Ribbon, the German Proficiency Badge—Gold Award, Parachutist Badge, and the Expert Field Medical Badge.